Jeremy Perkins

Email: jerperkins@gmail.com

I was a Senior Associate Professor with tenure in the Center for Language Research, University of Aizu, Japan from 2013 to 2024. I moved to Victoria, BC, Canada in December 2024 to live with my wife, a newly hired professor at U. of Victoria, and I am currently searching for a new position. I am primarily interested in experimental phonetics and how it can inform phonological theory, with a particular interest on the role of consonant-tone interaction, tone and phonation. I have done research on a variety of languages including Thai, Zhuang, and Korean. My teaching expertise extends from theoretical & experimental phonetics & phonology to English instruction for second-language learners in Thailand and Japan.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Joint Researcher   Apr 2021 – present
>   Tokyo University of Foreign Studies
>   Research Institute for Languages & Cultures of Asia & Africa
>   Project: Phonetic typology from cross-linguistic perspectives (PhonTyp)

Senior Associate Professor   Apr 2017 – Nov 2024
>   Center for Language Research
>   University of Aizu

Associate Professor   Fall 2013 – Mar 2017
>   Center for Language Research
>   University of Aizu

Graduate Research Assistantship   2010-11
>   African Anaphora Project (Afranaph)

Principle Investigator: Dr. Ken Safir
Duties included database & website management, data entry, student recruitment and training for data entry, organization of the Afranaph workshop

Graduate Research Assistantship   Fall 2003 – Spring 2005
Harmony & the Phonetic Basis of Phonological Features
Principle Investigator: Dr. Douglas Pulleyblank
Co-Investigator: Dr. Bryan Gick
Duties included analysis and processing of ultrasound imaging of the vocal tract and data entry

GRANTS AND AWARDS

- P.I. Kakenhi Grant-in-Aid Category C # 22K00510   (¥1,500,000)   2022-2024
  F0 cue conflicts between tone and consonant effects

- P.I., Kakenhi Grant-in-Aid for Young Scientists # 19k13162   (¥1,300,000)   2019-2023
  Psychoacoustic Roughness as a Measure of Glottalization in Consonants

- Co-investigator, Kakenhi Grant-in-Aid for Young Scientists   (¥300,000)   2018-2022
  Awarded to Younghyon Heo:
  Using Google Translate for Academic English Writing
      Instruction

- Expert Consultant, Strategic Japanese-Swiss Science   2017-2020
  And Technology Programme of JSPS & SNSF
  Awarded to Seunghun Lee:
  Phonetics, Phonology and New Orthographies in Roman
  And Indigenous Script: Helping Native Language Communities
  In the Himalayas (PhoPhoNO)

- Co-investigator, Competitive Research Funding (U. of Aizu)   (¥547,500)   2017-2018
  Awarded to Allan Nicholas:
  Investigating the effect of explicit, conversation analysis-based instruction on learners' oral speech act performance

- P.I., Kakenhi Grant-in-Aid for Young Scientists (Cat. B)   (¥1,430,000)   2015-2017
  An Acoustic Typology of Creaky Voice

- P.I., Competitive Research Funding (U. of Aizu)   (¥478,000)   2014-2015
  Sentence-level Intonation in Languages with Contrastive Phonation

- Mellon Summer Research Grant   ($2000)   Summer 2012
- Mellon Summer Research Travel Grant   ($1500)   Summer 2011
- Mellon Summer Research Grant   ($1500)   Summer 2010
- Mellon Summer Research Grant   ($4000)   Summer 2009
  Consonant-Tone Interaction & Glottalization in Thai
- Excellence Fellowship for Doctoral Study – Rutgers U.   ($18,000 each) 2007-08 & 2008-09
- Graduate Entrance Scholarship –UBC   2003

STUDENT SUPERVISION

- Undergraduate Supervision of B.Sc. with Computer Science Major:

- - 2023-24: Analysis of Pitch Accent Patterns in Fukushima and Tokyo Dialects of Japanese – Kyosuke Isono
  - 2016-17: Timing of the Lombard effect in the speech of Japanese learners of English in varying communicative tasks – Yuka Sato
- Graduate program advising:
  - 2023-24: PhD Dissertation Committee member, Computer & Information Systems Dept.: PhD dissertation - Veronica Khaustova
- Participation in University of Aizu Phonetics Lab led by Prof. Ian Wilson
  - 2013 – 2024: Advised undergraduate and Master's students on data analysis and statistical methods, contributing to their thesis research.
